

Anand Pavamani is a Music Composer, Writer, Director and Producer. Having learned to play the piano at age 5 and paint at age 8, art has always been a passion in his life. Anand has trained in classical music, jazz and pop and was a piano teacher for the Royal Conservatory of Music. Anand graduated from York University with a degree in Computer Science and has worked in Marketing and Technology Consulting to Fortune 500 Clients.

Recently, Anand formed Paixtriot, a Media Company based in Markham that creates Content around social issues and offers Content Creation, Marketing and Advertising services to Non Profit Organizations and Small to Medium sized Businesses.