

Jim Canale has been working with wrought iron for over 30 years creating ornamental iron décor for homes such as garden gates & railings. Jim is looking forward to this mentorship to transition his skills and passion to the Art World. When his clients ask how long he has been working with wrought iron his response is " I bleed rust." Jim's goes by "theirontailor" on his Instagram page. Having done some art pieces for clients who have commissioned him has definitely peaked his interest to do art on a Grander size & scale. He is looking very forward to this journey over the next nine months & beyond. Also, Jim has other passions in the Arts where he is an actor & a Full Member of Actra & has been on & auditioned for many TV Shows, Movies & some plays for Theatre. Have a Great Day and Create Away!
